I think Sherry's photo is another great example illustrating having fun with photography.

It was selected to take us into the fall season now that we are at the end of summer. With its view of the iconic lighthouse, the driftwood tree offers a lot of character and a wealth of details to please the eye.

Featured photos are selected to communicate an idea or thought about the world around us, like a special occasion, the time of year, the weather, maybe an upcoming event, or just for fun. They are important in promoting the Twin City Camera Club and its website. It's all about photography and having fun. A picture may or may not be worth a thousand words but when used to encourage and develop an interest in photography, we think they are the way to go...

Have you seen our new awning with the Twin City Camera Club on it?

October 11 - TEXTURE – Capture the visual quality of the surface of an object through variances in shape, tone, and color. It's all about interesting patterns, or intricate details.
• Ex: Bark on a tree, peeling paint, rust.

more about texture and gave me some ideas for this October's select photo entry.

When you photograph people in color, you photograph their clothes. But when you photograph people in black and white you photograph their souls!
